SUBJECT: 250°C High Temperature Certification

We are pleased to announce model RA Series (RA & RA 3 Series) fans with Havells motors have received 250°C high temperature certification. The certification is available immediately when making a special design request (SDR).

The motors with the 250°C high temperature certification are not selectable in CAPS® at this time. However, we can make accommodations using the SDR for a faster turnaround.

Select the RA Series fan in CAPS. Then select the 300°C motor as the required mark and request a high temperature (HT) motor SDR. Remember, you cannot choose the 250°C certification as a selection in CAPS until April 2020.

Our customer service team will make sure you receive the motor with the correct certification. If you have any questions, please contact customer service at GIN.Service@greenheck.com.

Thanks for your partnership and good selling!
