

A History of INNOVATION

Across eight decades, Greenheck has experienced much success. With thousands of associates worldwide, loyal support from our business partners, and ongoing investment, we have experienced solid growth in sales, number of employees, facilities, equipment, suppliers and products.

Our company's core value of focusing on continuous improvement through learning, innovation and teamwork is a prime reason we have remained competitive since 1947. The Robert C. Greenheck Innovation Center is yet another tangible affirmation of our commitment to this key corporate value. Thank you for being an important part of Greenheck's continued success!

— James McIntyre
President & Chief Executive Officer
